We've been hearing from our educator community that it's simply not enough to have occasional conversations about safety and digital civility and that they'd greatly benefit from a structured curriculum and project-based learning as the new school year begins and kids are spending more and more time learning and interacting with one another online," said Laura Higgins, Director of Community Safety and Digital Civility at ROBLOX. The curriculum launching today is designed to provide both educators and students with a self-paced, topic-specific narrative that will help build a generation of resilient digital citizens and ensure kids and teens have positive and safe online experiences.

If you head to the ROBLOX website there is a section where you can enter promo codes for free items. This February one of the codes will give you a shoulder accessory, but it is a bit creepy. It is a cola can with spider legs coming out of it, and this disgusting thing sits on your shoulder. This isn't something everyone is into, but if you enjoy the creepy and disturbing then this might intrigue you.
